

The True Cost of Operational Delays in Automotive Parts Manufacturing

Are you prepared to address them?

Delays driven by Poor Data Management are costing manufacturers billions.

Key Statistics

Industry Scale

The automotive manufacturing industry is valued at around $4000 Billion Globally

Data-Driven Delays

65% of delays stem from inefficient data systems.

Annual Cost

Operational delays cost manufacturers up to 11% of their yearly turnover.

Causes of Operational Delays

Limited Visibility

Errors lead to incorrect production forecasts.

Fragmented Systems

Disconnected tools slow down data access.

Inaccurate Data

Errors lead to incorrect production forecasts.

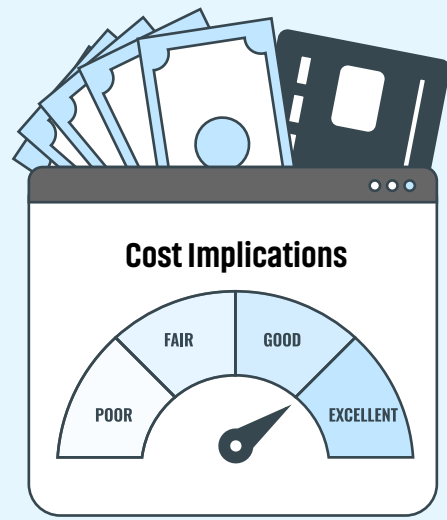

Manual Processes

Time wasted on updating and sharing data manually.

Inconsistent Product Info

Spec variations cause rework and production halts.

Cost Implications

Financial Losses

Penalties, rework, and expedited shipping costs.

Operational Bottlenecks

Idle resources and stalled production lines

Customer Trust

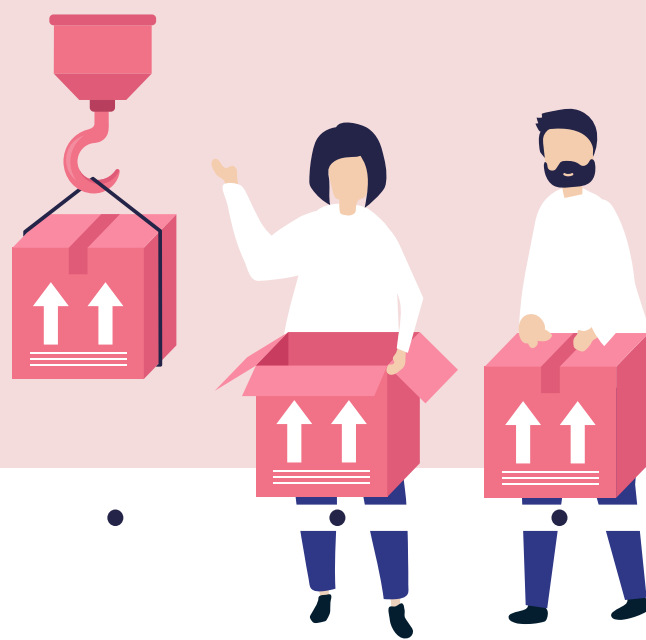

Missed deadlines lead to dissatisfied clients.

Data Errors

Financial and reputational damage from poor data handling.

Solutions to Mitigate Delays

- ✓ Centralized Platforms
Integrate all product and operational data into one system.
- ✓ Real-Time Access
Empower teams with updated, accurate data instantly.
- ✓ Automation
Eliminate errors and speed up processes with automated workflows.
- ✓ Forecasting Tools
Leverage AI for better demand and inventory predictions.
- ✓ Integrated Systems
Connect PIM, ERP, and supply chain tools for seamless operations.

How can Credencys Help?

- Designing and implementing tailored data management systems for automotive manufacturers.
- Centralizing and streamlining product information to ensure accuracy and consistency across channels.
- Leveraging real-time data tools for better operational oversight and decision-making.
- Seamlessly connecting PIM, ERP, and supply chain systems for optimized workflows.
